

Christine Tammara

Senior Vice President and Controller

Christine Tammara assumed the role of Senior Vice President and Controller of PepsiCo in May 2025. As PepsiCo's Principal Accounting Officer, Christine oversees PepsiCo's global financial reporting, Sarbanes-Oxley processes, division controllership, and other corporate control departments, including shared services. In this role, Christine works closely with PepsiCo's Audit Committee of the Board of Directors and leads PepsiCo's control transformation initiatives. PepsiCo products are enjoyed by consumers more than one billion times a day in more than 200 countries and territories around the world. PepsiCo generated nearly $92 billion in net revenue in 2024, driven by a complementary beverage and convenient foods portfolio that includes Lay's, Doritos, Cheetos, Gatorade, Pepsi-Cola, Mountain Dew, Quaker, and SodaStream. PepsiCo's product portfolio includes a wide range of enjoyable foods and beverages, including many iconic brands that generate more than $1 billion each in estimated annual retail sales.

Christine has over two decades of experience in accounting, external and internal reporting, auditing, controls and automation. Prior to this role, Christine served as Senior Vice President, Controller, PepsiCo Beverages North America since June 2023, where she drove the sector's control agenda, oversaw financial reporting and control execution, and partnered with the business on accounting and transformation solutions. Prior to that, Christine served as Senior Vice President and General Auditor from February 2021 to June 2023. During her tenure as General Auditor, Christine led the audit function to continue delivering core assurance to PepsiCo and the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors and established a strategic agenda focused on expanding the utilization of technology and data, promoting new ways of working and building a diverse team. Since joining PepsiCo in 2007, Christine has held various positions within Corporate Control, including Vice President and Assistant Controller, Technical Accounting and Policy, with responsibility for setting the accounting policy and Sarbanes-Oxley agenda, as well as functional stewardship for the Control teams in Global Procurement, Information Technology and the Global Groups. During this time, she has overseen the accounting for multi-billion-dollar acquisitions, the implementation of various efficiencies (including driving automation and streamlining accounting policies) and the global adoption of new accounting standards. She is also active in roundtable discussions with consumer product group controllers.

Prior to joining PepsiCo, Christine was Associate Director of External Reporting at The Reader's Digest Association, Inc., and started her business career with PricewaterhouseCoopers, LLP.

Christine is a CPA and holds a Bachelor of Arts with a major in Economics-Accounting from the College of the Holy Cross. She is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and NY State Society of CPAs.

Christine is based in Purchase, N.Y.
